

Devki Mahaveer Homoeopathic Medical College & Research Hospital
Farathiya, Garhwa, Jharkhand.

3.4.4: Corporate social responsibilities

3.5.1

The institution is committed to realize its social responsibility through meaningful and purposeful extension and out curriculum is implemented in such a way that it sensitizes faculty and students for their institutional and social responsibilities.

The extension programmes achieve goals and objectives such as systematic training of students and reference to health care and community development.

Important strategies and systems include the following:

1. Diagnostic Health Camps in rural/urban/slums/schools/orphanages.
2. Health awareness and sensitization plays, exhibition, rallies, placards, pamphlets) different National Health Programmes are distributed & displayed in the college OPD campus as well as different departments.
3. Blood donation camps
4. Swine flu, Dengue fever OPD
5. Participation and observation of important events and National health programs. (Yearly calendar is implemented with different activities.)
6. Free community marriages(above 100; Since 2010)
7. Blanket distribution for more than 5000 needy people
8. Distribution of Chat pooja groceries for all.
9. Swachh bharat abhiyan / clean india campaign in nearby villages to eliminate open defecation and improve solid waste management rural areas
10. Plantation programmes with by both staff and students.
11. Annual sports organization through NSS.
12. Free health check up camps every week in nearby area within the radius of 50 km.